

Halo Bank — Terms and Conditions

This is a fictional document created for a software demonstration. "Halo" is not a real bank, and every figure, rate, and policy below is illustrative only.

1. Opening your account

To open a Halo account you must be at least 18 years old and resident in the United Kingdom. When you apply we will ask you to verify your identity by providing a valid form of photographic identification, such as a passport or UK driving licence, and by recording a short selfie video. We use this information to comply with our legal obligations and to protect against fraud. We may decline an application where we are unable to verify your identity to our reasonable satisfaction.

2. Account plans and fees

Halo offers a Free current account with no monthly fee. We also offer two paid plans. Halo Plus costs £4 per month and Halo Premium costs £15 per month. Paid plans include additional benefits such as higher savings interest rates, worldwide travel insurance, and increased fee-free cash withdrawal limits when abroad. You may upgrade, downgrade, or cancel a paid plan at any time from within the Halo app. Changes take effect from the start of your next billing cycle, and we do not provide partial refunds for the current month.

3. Deposit protection

Halo Bank is authorised by the Prudential Regulation Authority and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority and the Prudential Regulation Authority. Eligible deposits held with Halo are protected by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS) up to a value of £85,000 per person. This protection applies to the combined balance of your current account and any savings pots. Money held in investment products, where offered, is protected separately and subject to different limits.

4. Cards, freezing and loss

Your Halo card remains the property of Halo Bank. You can freeze your card instantly at any time within the app, which prevents new payments while leaving any existing scheduled payments in place. Freezing a card does not cancel it; you can unfreeze it whenever you wish. If your card is lost or stolen, you should freeze it immediately and then report it to us through the app or by contacting Halo support. We will cancel the affected card and issue a replacement, which is provided free of charge and typically arrives within three to five working days.

5. Spending and withdrawing abroad

When you spend on your Halo card abroad, we apply no additional fee to the exchange rate and use the standard Mastercard rate of the day. Customers on the Free plan may withdraw up to £200 from overseas cash machines in any rolling thirty-day period without charge; beyond this limit a fee of 2% of the withdrawal amount applies. Customers on paid plans benefit from higher fee-free withdrawal limits, as set out in the relevant plan details.

6. Disputed and unauthorised transactions

If you notice a payment on your account that you do not recognise, or that you believe has been taken in error, you should contact us as soon as possible. You can raise a dispute directly in the app by selecting the relevant transaction. Where a payment was not authorised by you, we will normally refund the amount and any associated charges, unless we have reasonable grounds to believe you have acted fraudulently or with gross negligence. We may provide a temporary credit while we investigate a disputed transaction.

7. Complaints

We aim to provide an excellent service, but if something goes wrong we want to put it right. You can make a complaint through the app or by contacting Halo support. We will aim to resolve your complaint within three working days and will always provide a written summary of the outcome. If we are unable to resolve your complaint within eight weeks, or if you are dissatisfied with our final response, you have the right to refer the matter to the Financial Ombudsman Service free of charge.

8. Closing your account

You may close your Halo account at any time, provided any outstanding balance owed to us has been settled. We may close your account by giving you at least two months' written notice. In certain circumstances, for example where we suspect fraudulent or unlawful activity, or where you have seriously or repeatedly breached these terms, we may suspend or close your account immediately and without prior notice.
